Memo: Call for funds to help the Philippines after the deadly Typhoon

To: All member societies of the International Pediatric Association

The Philippines has been hit very hard by a massive Typhoon. The winds and storm surge that came with it are the highest ever recorded .

The death toll is at least 10,000 people and many thousands more are severely injured. The needs of the survivors are increasing by the minute.

The IPAF is making a call for donations to help the Philippine Pediatric Society as they respond to the needs of children and the families affected from this devastation. Any donation is helpful and adds up to help support our colleagues.

Donations from societies and individuals can be made on our website: www.ipaf-world.org

The donation link is on the top of the page. Any donation received between today and December 31st 2013 will be ear marked to support the Philippine Pediatric Society's disaster relief efforts.
